

eBook Distribution Service

Flat Fee eBook Distribution with Zero Commission

The eBook Partnership eBook distribution service offers one of the most comprehensive worldwide eBook distribution networks available.

We work with authors, publishers and many organisations from around the world.

Payment can be made by credit or debit card (US and UK clients), via bank transfer, or via PayPal (any currency).

We upload files and metadata for our clients, to hundreds of retailers, more than 65,000 libraries and several subscription services from around the world.

Key Benefits:

- Straightforward pricing and no commission
- An extensive distribution network
- Online sales and royalty reports
- Flexible royalty payment options
- No charges for metadata and pricing changes
- No minimum tie-in
- No need for exclusivity

Straightforward, Transparent Pricing

You pay a flat annual fee per title and there are no hidden costs. We do not charge any commission on your royalties and there are no fees for updates to your metadata.

The annual fee per title depends upon the number of titles you have – the more books the lower the price (see the table below for full details).

If you have 100 or more titles we can invoice you monthly if you prefer to split your distribution cost over 12 months.

	$ per title
1 to 2 titles	$50 per annum
3 to 5 titles	$40 pa
6 to 9 titles	$35 pa
10 to 29 titles	$30 pa
30 to 49 titles	$25 pa
50 to 99 titles	$20 pa
100+ titles	$1 per month or $12 pa

Prices in effect from Nov 2014.

A Global eBook Distribution Network

Our distribution channels include the biggest eBook retailers, leading subscription services, major library suppliers, and review and recommendation websites.

For full details visit the eBook Distribution Network page on our website.

Why choose our eBook Distribution Service?

-  Flat fee pricing and zero commission - You pay a fixed, low annual fee for each title and unlike many other eBook distribution services, we do not charge any commission on the royalties that your eBook titles generate. You will receive 100% of the royalties generated through our eBook distribution channels.
-  A global distribution network – We work with over 150 retailers, more than 65,000 libraries and subscription services from around the world.
-  Flexible payments – Once we have collected payment for your sales from our retailers, we can pass your money on to you monthly, quarterly or annually – whatever you prefer. You choose the payment method and minimum payment and we'll do the rest.
-  Online Sales and Royalty reports – You can keep track of your eBook sales and royalties through our online reporting system (which we call ED). ED collates all the latest sales data and royalty reports that we receive from our distribution partners. You can generate reports and graphs showing how many eBooks have been sold, the retailers generating most sales, and the royalties amount due.
-  Free metadata changes – Unlike some of our competitors, we will not charge you for updating your metadata or price information or for setting up price promotions with supporting retailers.
-  No exclusivity – You can specify which channels you would like us to distribute your eBook to. So if you manage your own Amazon account or on other retailers can use the eBook Partnership distribution service to widen your eBook distribution opportunities.
-  No tie-in – There is no minimum term commitment and you can request that your eBooks are removed from our distribution channels whenever you wish – at no charge.
-  Geographic targeting – We can upload eBook retailers which will give you a worldwide reach, but most of our eBook distribution channels do offer the option to restrict availability to specific geographic regions. If you only have the rights to distribute your eBook titles in North America and the UK for example, we can specify that these are the only regions your titles will appear on sale.

Sales & Royalty Reporting

All your eBook sales data in one place

Our online eBook sales and reporting system collects sales data from all our distribution channels and presents this to you in a series of easy to use reporting tools.

As soon as your first eBook has been distributed through our system we will send you unique login details so you can access your sales and royalty data via ebookdata.net (we call the system “Ed”).

Once you have logged-in you will be able to see a selection of royalty and sales reports. Each report can be filtered by channel, title and date. Examples of these reports are shown on the following pages.

How often is the information updated?

The information we receive from each distribution channel is uploaded to Ed as soon as it arrives, with most channels providing sales reports on a monthly basis.

Similarly, once we receive a payment from one of our partner channels we will update your account so that you can see how much you are due to receive in your next royalty payment.
